The disease continued unabated; it spread to my arms and legs, fill I was laid up entirely, and from continuel sitting on the floor on a pillow my limbs conto keep the flies off. My parents consulted a prominent physician and surgeon here in Chicago (the other physicians before mention were of Dunbas and Hamilton, Canada), he said he could do nothing for me, that the chances were that I would grow out of it, or that it would strike inwardly and kill me in time. He wanted to cut the sinews of my legs so that I could walk but I would not let him, for if scaly and pimply diseases of the skin, acain and blood I did get better I would have no control of them.

The France continued in this manner until I was CUTICURA, the great Skin Cure, and CUTICURA seventeen years of and one day in January, 1879, in the Chicago Tribune, I read an account of your medicines.
